

Treasury Securities Operational Details

The New York Fed is authorized by the Federal Open Market Committee \(FOMC\) to buy and sell Treasury securities for the System Open Market Account \(SOMA\) to the extent necessary to carry out directives adopted by the FOMC. These operations are conducted in the secondary market for Treasury securities.

At the most recent FOMC meeting, the FOMC directed the Open Market Trading Desk (the Desk) at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (New York Fed) to, when appropriate, increase SOMA securities holdings to maintain an ample level of reserves through purchases of Treasury bills and, if needed, other Treasury securities with remaining maturities of 3 years or less. Additionally, the FOMC directed the Desk to continue to reinvest all principal payments received from the Federal Reserve’s holdings of agency securities into Treasury bills.

Monthly Operation Amounts and Results

The Desk’s tentative monthly Treasury securities secondary transaction amounts and operational schedules are shown below. The table indicates whether operations for the monthly period are being conducted for small value purposes. In addition, historical operational results, including information on the transaction prices in individual operations, are shown in the table below at the end of each monthly period. Announcements with details on the day’s operation will be posted to the Treasury Securities Operations page at the start of each operation; results will be posted there after the close of each operation.
